

One of the LNHS flagship publications needs your help!

Do you read the London Bird Report? Do you have editing skills? The Report has been a birding fixture since 1936, but the data, once sparse, is now vast. LNHS are asking for your help in collating and editing the ups and downs of all our bird species.

Sample pages from the 2021 London Bird Report can be viewed on our website.

If this seems like something you'd like to do, please have a look at our job description and apply today!

We are also looking for a Middlesex Area Bird Recorder for the London Bird Club. Please see out volunteering page for more information.
